

Free Weekend Food For Your Child Available Through FORKids Program

FORKids is teaming up with the staff and teachers of Wa He Lut Indian School to offer a supply of nutritious meals and snacks for children over their weekends, free of charge. Bags are distributed by their teacher on the last school day before the weekend.

What the Program is: The FORKids program provides elementary-age children with food bags to take home over the weekend. The program is designed to help alleviate child hunger in our community. More information can be found on this web site, www.thurstoncountyfoodbank.org or by phone at 360-352-8597.

Please know that our program strives to be peanut free, however they cannot guarantee with absolute certainty that every bag will be free of peanuts because the program is 100% volunteer run. Any child with a severe allergy to peanuts is advised to not receive a bag for their own safety, or put in place a system where their parent(s), or guardian(s), can check the content before the child receives the bag.

Any child enrolled in the FORKids is able to receive these weekly bags of food.

If you believe your child could benefit from this program, we encourage you to sign them up by filling the form out below and returning it to the front office. Only one form is needed for all the children in your family, but include information for each child in the form below. This information is kept confidential between FORKids and Wa He Lut Indian School.

Once your child is signed up, they will receive bags of food each week until they leave the school or until you no longer wish to participate.

We encourage you to take advantage of this program for your family and your children.

Questions or concerns? Please contact your school's front office.
